

eSignature that keeps up with the speed of your business

Focus on driving revenue rather than chasing down signatures.

What is signNow?

signNow is a legally-binding eSignature solution that makes online approvals and document management easy, accurate, and fast. It empowers businesses with everything they need to replace costly and time-consuming paper-based processes with straightforward digital workflows.

Sign anytime, anywhere

Create your legally-binding signature and use it anytime you need to sign a document. Quickly send and sign documents, even while on the go, with mobile applications for iOS and Android.

Maximize productivity

Create reusable templates, collaborate on documents with teammates, customize signing orders for multiple signers, and track signatures in real time.

Delight customers

signNow's automated signing guidance and intuitive interface make electronic signing easy by eliminating the risk of missed fields and document errors.

Maintain security and compliance signNow helps customers comply with HIPAA, SOC 2 Type II, PCI DSS, CCPA, 21 CFR Part 11, FERPA, CCPA, and GDPR regulations, allowing users to keep data protected at all times.

Why do AWS customers choose signNow by airSlate?

signNow is widely recognized for empowering businesses with easy-to-use and reasonably priced eSignature tools that transform the way teams work. In addition, signNow is a trusted AWS partner, delivering additional benefits to customers.

The SRRP partnership

airSlate takes part in AWS' SaaS Revenue Recognition Program. Hence, signNow customers who transact through the AWS Marketplace are eligible to receive up to 3% of their TCV in AWS Service Credits. The credits can be spent on various AWS services or cover native consumption billing.

Enterprise Discount Program

Enterprise customers with higher annual AWS expenditures (typically $1 million or more) receive a contractually outlined discount of up to 9% in exchange for a prepaid, annual consumption commitment. The size of the discount depends on the committed annual spending and contract duration.

Free trial

The AWS Marketplace provides signNow customers with a comprehensive 30-day free trial, giving them a hands-on experience with the eSignature platform completely risk-free.
